

MAISON JACQUART TAKES TO THE SKIES

Brut Mosaïque NV from Maison JACQUART was served during the inaugural flight of the gigantic A380 Air France flight from Paris to Johannesburg.

Air France is the first airline to fly the world's largest passenger aircraft to Africa. 442 economy passengers celebrated this once in a lifetime moment with a glass or two of Maison JACQUART's flagship cuvée

Brut Mosaïque NV will also be available to Economy passengers to celebrate (or commiserate!) during the World Cup 2010 on all long haul Air France flights.

As Jacquart's signature champagne, Brut Mosaïque NV has balance, fresh fruit and intensity, the hallmarks of the Reims-based house.
